ABSTRACT

This analysis of New York state's current and prospective special education personnel status presents 40 tables and accompanying narratives. Major findings include the following: (1) there is a need for 5,176 full-time special education teacher positions and 2,633 full-time teacher assistant positions; (2) there is a need for 2,457 full-time teacher positions of the speech/hearing handicapped; (3) there is a need for 520 full-time occupational therapist positions and 501 full-time school psychologists; and (4) there is a trend toward identifying greater numbers and percentages of students as having disabilities. The report notes efforts to reduce these numbers by such efforts as training general education teachers to meet the needs of more students and regional projects to address student reading and mathematics difficulties. Following two summary tables of personnel needs in the executive summary, tables are grouped into five sections: (1) state-to-state data summary; (2) New York State summary; (3) regional state summary; (4) summary for state agencies; and (5) need/resource capacity summary. Three appendices include: Report of Personnel Employed or Needed To Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities; demographic information for 10 state regions, and information on preparation of teachers of speech and hearing handicapped. Foreword

As part of its strategic plan, the State Education Department has made a commitment to the use of key data to track progress in critical areas in order to improve results. Thanks to the outstanding work of our Strategic Evaluation Data Collection Analysis and Reporting unit, the Office of Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities (VESID) has been able to use key performance data for analyses and decision making in both special education and vocational rehabilitation.

This Special Analysis Report will be the first in a series aimed at using extant data to provide an in-depth analysis in a specific important area. This report focuses on special education personnel and is intended to be useful to those involved in the State's Comprehensive System of Personnel Development (CSPD) and pianning for the future availability of sufficient personnel in special education and related fields.

I want to recognize those individuals in VESID who are responsible for this report and our other data analysis and performance measurement efforts. They are Inderjit K. Barone, Maureen A. Barton, Kathy L. Bunney, Michael G. Bradshaw, Helen M. Callahan, Marilyn J. Cannon, Peter J. Carroll, John G. Cebula, Tara A. Loria, Kathleen Rowe, and James C. Viola. The high quality of their work and their commitment to excellence is deeply appreciated.

The next special analysis report will focus on data regarding special education classification, placement and performance based on race/ethnicity. This report will be important as we carry out our new responsibilities regarding these issues as the result of the 1997 amendments to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

On June 12, 1998, the New York State Board of Regents Task Force on Teaching issued the report, "Teaching to Higher Standards: New York's Commitment." In large measure, the Task Force Report centers on two aspects of teacher capacity:

- The extent to which educators are trained and skilled to meet the needs of a diverse student body, and
- The recruitment and retainment of sufficient quantities of qualified personnel.

Some initiatives to improve teacher quality and effectiveness have already been established, such as the successful completion of specified competency examinations and the required participation of newly certified teachers in professional development (i.e., 175 hours every five years) in order to maintain certification. Other initiatives in this regard, such as revised preservice certification requirements, remain under discussion.

Regarding the availability of personnel, the Regents Task Force on Teaching states:

> "New York faces a shortage of qualified teachers. Already, more than 10,000 adults teach with temporary licenses - most of them in New York City and other urban settings and in fields such as math, science, and bilingual and special education. Within the next decade, more than half of the 202,000 currently certified and practicing teachers will become eligible to retire."

There are many ways to consider data regarding New York State's current and prospective special education personnel status. One method is to determine the difference between current demand and projected demand for various categories of personnel. A statewide summary based on this method is presented in Table 1. However, a more complete method of analysis includes the consideration of vacant personnel positions and personnel who hold temporary licenses, in addition to current and projected demands. A statewide summary based on this method is presented in Table 2.

The data and findings contained in this report corroborate, in regard to special education personnel, the general findings of the Regents Task Force on Teaching. This report contains the following findings:

- There is a need for 5,176 full-time Special Education Teacher positions. (3,054 positions based on the difference between 1996-97 actual demand and 2001-02 projected demand; 2,122 positions based on teachers with temporary licenses and vacant positions.)
- There is a need for 2,633 full-time Teacher Assistant positions. (1,635 positions based on the difference between 1996-97 actual demand and 2001-02 projected demand; 998 positions based on personnel with temporary licenses and vacant positions.)
- There is a need for 2,457 full-time Teacher of the Speech/Hearing Handicapped positions. (1,760 positions based on the difference between 1996-97 actual demand and 2001-02 projected demand; 697 positions based on teachers with temporary licenses and vacant positions.)
- There is a need for 520 full-time Occupational Therapist positions. (280 positions based on the difference between 1996-97 actual demand and 2001-02 projected demand; 240 positions based on vacant positions.)

- There is a need for 501 full-time School Psychologist positions. (289 positions based on the difference between 1996-97 actual demand and 2001-02 projected demand; 212 positions based on temporary licenses and vacant positions.)

The projected increase in personnel needed for 2001-02 may be partly attributed to New York State's statistical trend in identifying greater numbers and percentages of students as having disabilities. Data for the past five years indicate the following:

- 1992-93 – 9.9 percent - 308,173 students with disabilities, 3,127,753 total students
- 1993-94 – 10.5 percent - 333,743 students with disabilities, 3,168,546 total students
- 1994-95 – 10.8 percent - 346,530 students with disabilities, 3,207,125 total students
- 1995-96 – 11.1 percent - 362,202 students with disabilities, 3,255,765 total students
- 1996-97 – 11.6 percent - 380,320 students with disabilities, 3,290,150 total students
- 1997-98 – 11.7 percent - 389,887 students with disabilities, 3,342,359 total students

To the extent that the percentage of students determined to have a disability can be maintained or reduced during upcoming school years, the projected shortfall in needed personnel will be lessened. In this regard, State Education Department is implementing four initiatives:

- The State's Special Education Training and Resource Center (SETRC) and Administrator Leadership Training Academy (ALTA) networks are implementing programs to improve the technical skill of general education personnel in meeting the needs of students experiencing academic difficulties. SED is also working with institutions of higher education (IHEs) to enhance skill development at the preservice level.

- Regional projects have been established, based on performance of students in State examinations, to address student reading and mathematics difficulties.

- School districts are being encouraged to establish local Child Study Teams to provide technical assistance and information to general education personnel in meeting the needs of students without the provision of special education programs and services. School districts are also being encouraged to establish/make available additional general education skills enhancement/remedial programs.

- Training is being provided to Committee on Preschool Special Education (CPSE) and Committee on Special Education (CSE) members regarding appropriate considerations and criteria for determining eligibility for special education programs and services, as well as possible alternatives to special education.

The above data do not represent the full extent to which qualified special education personnel are and will be needed. Considerations such as personnel age, SED initiatives to raise teacher standards and certification criteria and retainment of personnel in New York State schools and education careers are not addressed in this report. However, it should be noted that for several years, SED has proactively established and expanded numerous projects to attract and support the preparation of selected types of special education personnel. A description of such projects is included in annual editions of the Performance Report of Educational and Vocational Services and Results for Individuals with Disabilities. A copy of this report may be obtained, at no cost, by contacting the Office of Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities (VESID), at (518) 486-4678.

VERIFICATION AND LIMITATIONS OF DATA PRESENTED IN THIS REPORT

Data Verification

The data presented in this report for New York State were received by the State Education Department (SED) through the implementation of the PD-6 – Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. The categories, instructions and definitions included in the PD-6 instrument have been developed in a manner fully consistent with requirements set by the United States Department of Education (USDOE) for special education personnel reports and for the State's Comprehensive System of Personnel Development (CSPD).

To facilitate and support the submission of accurate data by local level data managers, the SED implements the following measures:

1) Each data report includes clear definitions and instructions. Toward this end, surveys are included with data instruments to provide local level data managers the opportunity to identify ambiguities and to suggest improvements. Such survey information is carefully considered as data collection instruments are annually developed/revised.

2) Technical assistance is readily available from SED personnel by telephone contact, E-MAIL or writing.

3) Regional training programs are conducted by SED personnel in regard to special education data reporting and analysis. During the 1996-97 school year, 14 regional presentations were attended by approximately 630 participants.

4) Upon receiving data reports from school districts and programs, SED central office personnel implement the following verification procedures:
   - Each submitted report is reviewed to ensure that data are submitted for all appropriate categories and that there are no obvious errors or oversights.
   - Data are entered into the State data system and checked for mathematical accuracy and internal consistency. In instances in which errors are identified, local level data managers are contacted to obtain corrections and provide technical assistance, if needed.
   - Data for the current year are compared with data submitted for previous years to check for significant discrepancies which may be the result of error or misunderstanding of directions.
   - Data summaries are completed and mailed to local level data managers to confirm that data were correctly entered into the State data system and accurately reflect the status of the school district/program.

5) SED Quality Assurance monitoring personnel verify the accuracy of special education child count data and other types of selected data (including special education personnel data) during periodic program reviews.

Additional verification procedures are implemented by the USDOE for data submitted by State education agencies. In many respects, federal verification procedures parallel those of the New York State Education Department.

Data Limitations

The data contained in this report are as valid and reliable as the information submitted to State Education Department by school districts and programs. Data reflect statewide and regional staffing demands for the 1996-97 school year, the most recent year for which such data have been received and fully verified. Statewide and regional personnel projections for the 2001-2002 school year are based on calculation methods determined to be appropriate at the local level. Therefore, the 1996-97 data are factual, whereas the projection data (provided in 1996) are local level determinations based on considerations such as trends in program expansion/initiation/ discontinuation and numbers of students determined to have a disability.

The projection information and findings related to personnel shortages presented in this report are not based on recent State Education Department initiatives to raise teacher standards and certification criteria. Personnel data are not reflective of personnel chronological age considerations, which indicate increasing proportions of educational personnel becoming eligible for retirement, nor the extent to which personnel are retained in New York State schools and in education careers. These considerations may be expected to substantially affect personnel projections and shortages.

SECTION I
STATE-TO-STATE DATA SUMMARY
Considerations Regarding Tables 3 and 4

Data are presented in this section for two clusters of states: Table 3 pertains to the seven largest states in the nation (often referred to as the Seven PAC States), and Table 4 pertains to the eight states geographically located in the Northeast Regional Resource Center (NERRC) region, (these states are contiguous or near to New York State). Data are presented for three broad personnel categories (special education teachers for students with disabilities, ages 3-5; special education teachers for students with disabilities, ages 6-21; and related services personnel for students with disabilities, ages 3-21). The data presented in these tables were obtained from two sources:

- Special education personnel data were included in an unpublished report developed by WESTAT, Inc. (an independent data collection and analysis corporation with which the United States Department of Education contracts) and distributed to state special education data managers at the "Twelfth Annual Conference on the Management of Federal/State Data Systems" held in March 1998.
- Special education child count data were published in the Nineteenth Annual Report to Congress on the Implementation of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, prepared by the United States Department of Education.

The personnel data reflect status on or about December 1, 1995. (This was the latest year for which such data were available at the time of this publication.) Data are collected in a full-time equivalent (FTE) basis (e.g., two personnel, each working half-time would constitute one FTE). Employed, Fully Certified reflects the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified category Employed, Not Fully Certified reflects the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification or a temporary license. In some instances, all data were not available in the states addressed in these tables. In such instances, data cells are marked "NA" and the data in such categories are not included in the calculations or findings addressed in this report.

The special education child count data reflect status on December 1, 1995. The ratios presented are not necessarily reflective of the typical class settings in which services are provided to students with disabilities. Such ratios are intended only to provide a basis for state-to-state comparisons regarding overall identification of students with disabilities and the personnel needed to provide special education programs and services.

SECTION II
NEW YORK STATE SUMMARY
Considerations Regarding Tables 5A and 5B

New York State data are presented in this section, on a statewide basis, pertaining to the employment of special education personnel needed to provide programs and services to preschool students with disabilities (Table 5A) and to school-age students with disabilities (Table 5B) on or about December 1, 1996. The data are reflective of personnel employed and needed in all State programs including those operated by public schools, Boards of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES), private approved programs operated within New York State, State-operated and State-supported schools, Special Act School Districts approved preschool evaluation programs and State agencies.

The data were collected through the implementation of the data collection instrument, PD-6—Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. A copy of the complete form, including cover memorandum and directions, is attached as Appendix A. The following points are important to consider in reviewing the contents of this section:

- Data are recorded on a Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) basis. Therefore, two personnel each employed half-time would constitute one FTE.
- Permanent Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified personnel category. Personnel who do not require certification or licensure to meet existing State standards are also included under this heading.
- Provisional Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification/licensure in the specified personnel category.
- Temporary License data reflect the number of FTE personnel employed/contracted on an emergency or other basis who did not hold a permanent or provisional certificate/license for the position they were assigned, or did not meet other existing State standards for the position.
- Vacant Positions data reflect the number of FTE of unfilled vacancies in funded positions. This item does not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable" but are not currently required/funded.
- Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified category and were employed/contracted in the same school district/program, in the same position, during the previous year.
- Not Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification or a temporary license in the specified category and were employed in the same school district/program, in the same position, the previous year.
- Five Year Projection data reflect the total number of FTE personnel projected, by local school districts and programs, to be needed in five years. Although a formula for calculating such data was provided by the State Education Department, the actual method used for deriving such data was left to the discretion of each program.

SECTION III
REGIONAL STATE SUMMARY
CONSIDERATIONS REGARDING TABLES 6A-15A AND 6B-15B

New York State data are presented in this section for ten State regions (Boards of Cooperative Educational Services Effective Schools Consortium Regions): Metro, Eastern, North Country/Mohawk, Mid-State, Western, New York City, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers. A demographic description of each region is included as Appendix B. The data for the Large Five Cities (New York City, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers) reflect the special education personnel employed/needed by the respective public school district as well as by all other special education programs (e.g., approved private schools) located within the catchment area of the city school district. In addition, the data for the large five school district regions are not included in the broader regional data categories (Metro, Eastern, North Country/Mohawk, Mid-State and Western). Therefore, the data presented for the Buffalo City School District region and the data presented for the Western region are unduplicated. It should also be noted that the data presented in this section do not include State agencies, which are presented separately in Section IV.

The data are collected through the implementation of the data collection instrument, PD-6—Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. A copy of the complete form, including cover memorandum and directions, is attached as Appendix A. The following points are important to consider in reviewing the contents of this section:

- Data are recorded on a Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) basis. Therefore, two personnel each employed half-time would constitute one FTE.
- Permanent Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified personnel category. Personnel who do not require certification or licensure to meet existing State standards are also included under this heading.
- Provisional Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification/licensure in the specified personnel category.
- Temporary License data reflect the number of FTE personnel employed/contracted on an emergency or other basis who did not hold a permanent or provisional certificate/license for the position they were assigned, or did not meet other existing State standards for the position.
- Vacant Positions data reflect the number of FTE of unfilled vacancies in funded positions. This item does not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable" but are not currently required/funded.
- Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified category and were employed/contracted in the same school district/program, in the same position, during the previous year.
- Not Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification or a temporary license in the specified category and were employed in the same school district/program, in the same position, the previous year.
- Five Year Projection data reflect the total number of FTE personnel projected, by the program, to be needed in five years. Although a formula for calculating such data was provided by the State Education Department, the actual method for deriving such data is left to the discretion of each program.

SECTION IV
STATE AGENCY SUMMARY
CONSIDERATIONS REGARDING TABLES 16A AND 16B

New York State data are presented in this section, in an aggregated format, for the following State agencies: Department of Correctional Services (DOCS), Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS), Office of Mental Health (OMH) and Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities (OMRDD).

The data were collected through the implementation of the data collection instrument, PD-6 – Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. A copy of the complete form, including cover memorandum and directions, is attached as Appendix A. The following points are important to consider in reviewing the contents of this section.

- Data are recorded on a Full-time Equivalent (FTE) basis. Therefore, two personnel each employed half-time would constitute one FTE.
- Permanent Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified personnel category. Personnel who do not require certification or licensure to meet existing State standards are also included under this heading.
- Provisional Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification/licensure in the specified personnel category.
- Temporary License data reflect the number of FTE personnel employed/contracted on an emergency or other basis, who did not hold a permanent or provisional certificate/license for the position they were assigned, or did not meet other existing State standards for the position.
- Vacant Positions data reflect the number of FTE of unfilled vacancies in funded positions. This item does not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable" but are not currently required/funded.
- Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified category and were employed/contracted in the same school district/program, in the same position, during the previous year.
- Not Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification or a temporary license in the specified category and were employed in the same school district/program, in the same position, the previous year.
- Five Year Projection data reflect the total number of FTE personnel projected, by the agency, to be needed in five years. Although a formula for calculating such data was provided by the State Education Department, the actual method for deriving such data is left to the discretion of each agency.

SECTION V
NEED/RESOURCE CAPACITY SUMMARY
CONSIDERATIONS REGARDING TABLES 17A-22A AND 17B-22B

Special Education personnel data are presented in this section according to Need/Resource Capacity (N/RC) Categories. Need/Resource Capacity is a measure of a school district's ability to meet the needs of its students with local resources. It is the ratio of the estimated poverty percentage[1] (expressed in standard score form) to the Combined Wealth Ratio[2] (expressed in standard score form). A district with both Estimated Poverty and Combined Wealth Ratio equal to the State average would have a N/RC index of 1.0. The table below presents and describes the six N/RC categories.

Need/Resource Capacity Category	Description
New York City	New York City
Large City Districts	Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Yonkers
High N/RC Districts Urban-Suburban	All districts at or above the 70th percentile (1.181) which meet one of the following conditions: 1) more than 100 students per square mile or 2) have an enrollment greater than 2,500 and more than 50 students per square mile.
Rural	All districts at or above the 70th percentile (1.181) which meet one of the following conditions: 1) fewer than 50 students per square mile or 2) fewer than 100 students per square mile and an enrollment of less than 2,500.
Average N/RC Districts	All districts between the 20th (0.785) and 70th (1.181) percentile on the index.
Low N/RC Districts	All districts below the 20th percentile (0.785) on the index.

N/RC status is available only for school districts. Therefore, this section does not address special education personnel status in other programs, such as programs operated by Boards of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) and approved private schools.

The data are collected through the implementation of the data collection instrument, PD-6—Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. A copy of the complete form, including cover memorandum and directions, is attached as Appendix A. The following points are important to consider in reviewing the contents of this section:

[1] Estimated Poverty Percentage: A weighted average of the 1991 kindergarten through grade 6 percent free/reduced price lunch percentage and the 1990 Census poverty percentage. (An average was used to mitigate measurement errors in each measure.) The result is a percentage that more closely approximates the percentage of children eligible for free- or reduced-price lunches than the percentage below the federally established poverty line.

[2] Combined Wealth Ratio: The ratio of district wealth per pupil to State average wealth per pupil, used in the 1994-95 Governor's proposal.

- Data are recorded on a Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) basis. Therefore, two personnel each employed half-time would constitute one FTE.
- Permanent Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified personnel category. Personnel who do not require certification or licensure to meet existing State standards are also included under this heading.
- Provisional Certification data reflect the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification/licensure in the specified personnel category.
- Temporary License data reflect the number of FTE personnel employed/contracted on an emergency or other basis who did not hold a permanent or provisional certificate/license for the position they were assigned, or did not meet other existing State standards for the position.
- Vacant Positions data reflect the number of FTE of unfilled vacancies in funded positions. This item does not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable" but are not currently required/funded.
- Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified category and were employed/contracted in the same school district/program, in the same position, during the previous year.
- Not Fully Certified Retained Staff is the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification or a temporary license in the specified category and were employed in the same school district/program, in the same position, the previous year.
- Five Year Projection data reflect the total number of FTE personnel projected, by the school district or program, to be needed in five years. Although a formula for calculating such data was provided by the State Education Department, the actual method for deriving such data was left to the discretion of each program.

Subject: PD-6 -- Report of Personnel Employed or Needed to Provide Special Education and Related Services to Students with Disabilities. Due FEBRUARY 1, 1997.

Attached is a PD-6 form, Report of Special Education Personnel Employed or Needed. It must be completed by all school districts, Boards of Cooperative Educational Services, State agencies, State-operated schools, State-supported schools, approved preschool evaluation programs, approved private schools and municipalities. This report is designed to collect full-time equivalent (FTE) data for a point in time, on or about December 1, 1996, regarding special education personnel who are currently employed or are needed; as well as those personnel projected to be needed in five years (school year 2001-2002). Pursuant to 20 U.S.C. 1418 of Federal Law, and 34 CFR 300.745 and 300.380, the New York State Education Department is required to report these data to the United States Department of Education (USDOE). Your completed PD-6 form must be returned to the State Education Department, by February 1, 1997.

The PD-6 form has been designed in a manner fully consistent with USDOE requirements established for the Special Education Data Report and for the Comprehensive System of Personnel Development (CSPD). In addition, it is planned that submitted data will be aggregated and analyzed at the State and regional levels, and will be reported back to you, institutions of higher education, other appropriate agencies and neighboring states for personnel planning purposes.

As compared to the PD-6 form for 1995-96, the PD-6 form for 1996-97 has been revised to include two sections:

- Section A — Reports personnel information for the provision of preschool special education programs or services, pursuant to Section 4410 or 4201of the Education Law, to students with disabilities, ages 3-5.

- Section B — Reports personnel information for the provision of school-age (ages 4-21) special education programs and services to students with disabilities.

Section C (Other Special Education Personnel) has been deleted and the personnel categories formerly included in Section C have been added to Section A and Section B. This revision will create no additional data burden for most programs, but will significantly enhance the usefulness of data.

If you have any questions or are in need of assistance in completing this report, please call the Special Education Data Collection, Analysis and Reporting (SEDCAR) unit by telephoning (518) 486-4678. Thank you for your timely completion of this important report.

Instructions and Definitions for Completing the PD-6 Report

1. The data entered in this report should reflect special education personnel information for the time period on or about December 1, 1996.

2. Complete only Section A for any personnel providing services to preschool students. Complete only Section B for any personnel providing services to school-age students. For personnel who provide services to both preschool and school-age students with disabilities, pro-rate their FTE according to the allocation of their time to each population. For example, for a bilingual school psychologist working two days per week in the preschool program and three days per week in a program for school-age students with disabilities, ".4 FTE" would be entered in Section A, Line 16, and ".6 FTE" would be entered in Section B, Line 64.

3. Report information for all personnel who were employed or directly contracted with to provide special education services or programs to students with disabilities, ages 3-21. (In almost all cases, these are the personnel to whom the district/school/agency, or evaluation program issues pay checks.) Please note that all BOCES special education personnel should only be reported by the BOCES.

4. Report information for all special education personnel, regardless of funding source (i.e., Part B of IDEA (federal), State or local).

5. Do not report personnel providing special education services to children from birth to age two.

6. Do not report regular education teachers who work with preschool or school-age students with disabilities unless these teachers were hired specifically to work with students with disabilities.

7. Certification/licensure categories for the reporting of bilingual personnel should be an unduplicated count (i.e., not a subset of the same category without the bilingual annotation).

8. Full-Time Equivalency (FTE) is the numeric representation of the extent to which personnel are employed or needed. A full-time teacher should be reported as 1.00 FTE. A part-time teacher working four hours per day (in a six hour day) would be calculated as .67 FTE. For staff who are employed on a per diem or hourly basis as needed during the year, provide the best estimation of their need over a one-year period by adding the total number of hours or days employed, divided by number of hours or days that would constitute full-time employment for such staff.

9. For personnel who are certified/licensed in more than one area, and provide services to students in more than one area, pro-rate their FTE for each area in which they provide services, so that the total FTE reflects their actual FTE of employment.

10. If you have any questions, please contact the Special Education Data Collection, Analysis and Reporting (SEDCAR) unit by telephoning (518) 486-4678.

Column Definitions

Column	Item	Definition
A	Permanent Certification	Report the number of FTE personnel who had permanent certification/licensure in the specified personnel category. Also report all staff in this column who do not require certification or licensure to meet existing State standards (or for whom no State standards exist).
B	Provisional Certification	Report the number of FTE personnel who had provisional certification/licensure in the specified personnel category.
C	Temporary License	Report the number of FTE personnel employed or contracted on an emergency or other basis who did not hold a permanent or provisional certificate/license for the position they were assigned, or did not meet other existing State standards for the position. This includes long-term substitutes.
D	Vacant Positions	Report the number of FTE unfilled vacancies in funded positions. Do not report personnel included under EMPLOYED/Temporary License in this count. Also, this item should not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable" but are not currently required/ funded. Also, to the extent students with disabilities are provided alternative special education programs or services, on an interim basis, due to a lack of personnel who are certified/licensed to fully implement their IEP (or are unserved or underserved due to such a lack of qualified personnel), this column should include the number of personnel which are necessary for the full implementation of each student's IEP.
E	Total Demand	For each personnel category, Total Demand is derived by adding the numbers for Permanent Certification, Provisional Certification, Temporary License and Vacant Positions. This item should not reflect the number of additional personnel which may be "desirable."
F	Number of Students Served	For teachers, report the number of students served for each category specified. This may be a duplicated count since students with disabilities may receive services from multiple teachers. In cases where students with disabilities receive alternative special education programs or services from personnel who are not appropriately certified/licensed to implement their IEP, such students should be reported for the personnel category in which they are actually served.
G	Fully Certified Retained Staff	Report the number of FTE personnel who had Permanent Certification/Licensure in the specified category who were employed/contracted in the same school district or agency in the same position during the 1995-96 school year.
H	Not Fully Certified Retained Staff	Report the number of FTE personnel who had Provisional Certification or a Temporary License in the specified category who were employed in the same school district in the same position during the 1995-96 school year.
I	Five Year Projection	The projected five year Total Demand (i.e., the total FTE, which will be needed) for each personnel category should be computed. In cases where students with disabilities receive alternative special education programs or services, on an interim basis, due to a lack of personnel who are certified/licensed to fully implement their IEP (or are unserved or underserved due to such a lack of such qualified personnel), data should be entered in this column, in a manner reflecting planned progress in the full implementation of each student's IEP by qualified personnel. The formula below may be used for generating projection data, however, other projection methodologies developed or adopted at the local level, may also be used. (Department approval is not required for the implementation of alternative projection methodologies.) $\frac{\text{5 Year Projected Student Enrollment Per Personnel Category}}{\text{Average Number Students Assigned to Each Staff in this Personnel Category}}$ = Five Year Projection

APPENDIX C
PREPARATION FOR TEACHERS OF SPEECH AND HEARING HANDICAPPED

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) publication Final Approved New York State Plan for the Education of Students with Disabilities, 1996-98 includes (on pages 116 and 117) the following provisions related to Teachers of the Speech and Hearing Handicapped:

NYSED will take the following actions to ensure that teachers of the speech and hearing handicapped are adequately prepared to provide services and will obtain the highest entry requirement in the State according to 34 CFR 300.153(c). A memorandum dated January 1994 provided information to public agencies on the actions to be taken by the NYSED.

- NYSED will amend Section 80.6 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education to require that all individuals hold a Master's Degree in speech-language pathology as the entry requirement for those who provide speech pathology services to students with disabilities after July 1, 2015. Such regulations would be adopted by the Board of Regents no later than July 1, 2005, to be fully effective as of July 1, 2015.
- NYSED will amend Section 80.6 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education to require that all individuals providing speech pathology services to students with disabilities in school settings after July 1, 2015 hold a Master's Degree in speech-language pathology in addition to coursework in pedagogy for the permanent certificate. (A provisional certificate will not be issued after that date.) In addition, provisional certificates which currently enable teachers of the speech and hearing impaired to teach with a baccalaureate degree will be phased out beginning in the year 2010.
- NYSED will amend Section 80.6 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education to require that individuals obtain a Master's Degree in the field of speech pathology services to qualify for a permanent teaching certificate. As of the year 2000, all individuals graduating with a Master's Degree in the field would be required to meet these new requirements. Current requirements allow an individual to pursue a program of study in the field of speech-language pathology or a related field, if they have 36 semester hours of undergraduate study in speech.
